

Comment from Nancy Dunn

Please consider a separate accommodation for people traveling with pets!! This is important. There have been too many tragedies involving animals and they are not freight! You really should not be allowing pets to be separated from their owners for any reason because they are stressed in an unfamiliar place they are moving and if they detect the scent of other animals and no owner is tough on even a healthy animal. Please create a separate space for people traveling with animals and pets!