I did not see any of the other OEMs commenting on this petition. I think any changes to this document needs to get the buy-in or at least comments from the other OEMs to get more confidence that these changes are the right ones. GM does not have the best reputation with the public at this point (ignition scandal, mass layoffs and plant closures, 2019 Corvette recall for airbags not deploying, etc.) to be trusted to recommend an approach that is in the best interest of the public. Let's get other OEM viewpoints before this causes severe accidents that damages the reputation of Autonomous Vehicles for many years.
