

Comment from Anonymous

Classic speed as the boogeyman nonsense with the same "kinetic energy" recitations, "speeding-related" loaded term that fails to look at individual causal factors in crashes, and the invented "lives saved" as a fact-free moralizing plea. I can only imagine the tedious torture of a long haul trucker stuck at 68 mph on an empty western interstate. Not to mention increased conflict between trucks and cars. No thanks!