

Comment from Shyla Patera

My name is Shyla Patera. I am writing to respond to Removing Barriers for Automated Vehicles. I really hope that people with disabilities are included in the planning for automation vehicles. Rural states like Montana are just beginning to conceptualize automated vehicles. If automated vehicles are truly the future, rural states should be a vital part of the planning.