

Raymond Worden - Comments

Automated truck should not be allowed on our highways while our families are traveling on them we are not Equipped there are to many problems with what your Proposing any risk is not Acceptable I've heard different percentages ranged from 95 % to 90 % safe. well for me that is not high enough for you to risk any family being on the road with an 80,0000 pound Automated truck with or without a Human driver. someday maybe but for argument sake I'll tell you your Biggest obstacles
1 the roads themselves every major interstate highway is a mess from potholes to construction

2 human beings

for now for me those are your biggest problems