

Marcus Santos - Comments

Almost 2 million jobs at stake here. And that's just counting drivers. That's not to mention the countless fuel stations that are going to suffer bcz of automation. The businesses, employees at the many fuel stations, restaurants, hotels, rest stops, etc. Autonomous vehicles will rob the country of trillions of dollars. Making it that much more difficult for people to support themselves and their families. Not to mention the monies that will be siphoned from our economy.

Who will buy the products transported by autonomous vehicles if no one is making money bcz of autonomy? It will collapse the country's economy, if allowed to steal the ppls jobs.

America's government is to make sure it's ppl are not put out into the cold for technology.