

Christy Rowe - Comments

With this particular comment, I'm not addressing your specific questions in the mountain of ridiculous paperwork you included with this crap. Instead, I'm going to give you some information.

In my state of Missouri, there are 253,684 CDL holders according to state records. That is a lot of jobs that could be on the line for residents.

I would like to suggest that you read through the latest edition of the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders by the American Psychiatric Association because trying to put Americans out of work and using THEIR tax money to do it is a clear sign of mental illness! You are going to have mass chaos and a war on your hands!

This little link right here <https://www.its.dot.gov/about.htm> is so infuriating! We should have streets of gold with the amounts of misappropriated funds shown, yet, the AMERICAN CITIZENS spend approximately $3 Billion a year for repairs to our vehicles caused by POT-HOLE DAMAGE (<https://www.oregon.aaa.com/2016/02/pothole-damage-costs-u-s-drivers-3-billion-annually/>).

Also infuriating to me are the allegations against Sec. Elaine Chao. That woman has NO business being Secretary of Transportation! She wouldn't know safety if it bit her on the ass! Even Bill Ford said, "We are dealing with peoples lives. We have to be absolutely sure these are ready for prime time in all conditions, he told the EcoMotion conference." (<https://www.reuters.com/article/us-ford-motor-autonomous-idUSKCN1TC0ZY>)

You are about to create a catastrophe of exponential proportions...