

Vince Tarducci - Comments

As a United States citizen and one who takes pride in Safe Driving, I am clearly not ready to see Driver less Tractor Trailers on any highway, street, road, etc. It really does not make any human sense to go this route. Besides the fact that Americans need to be able to work for a living allowing one to sustain a living and purchase goods for a better economy, this latest decision to get rid of human beings to perform a service to the citizens of the USA is ridiculous.

Safety comes first and I personally see issues especially if things occur that cause malfunction problems.

I am concerned the direction that this country is heading as it tries to find ways to eliminate employment by replacing the hard and dedicated work by Americans with robots.

The United States Postal Service is supposed to provide a service to the American People and our Founding Fathers and those who wrote the Constitution did not for see these strange changes. Perhaps I am naive, but this is the way i see it.

This is Bad

[illegible]