A lot of people including me sometimes don't wear seatbelts when they sit in the back seats. The first reason, my experience is police officers don't really care about back seats passengers, as long as front passengers wear seat belts, they are okay with it. The second reason, when I ride Uber, most drivers don't check about back passengers whether they wear seatbelts or not. Maybe they don't see it or they just don't want to tell their passengers. In this case, the back passengers more likely get hurt when the car crashes. I strongly support a requirement for a rear seat bely warning system. Not only that, I would also like sound alerts if a passenger does not wear a seat belt no matter where he/she sits.
