

Comment from Anonymous

I recommend not logging or thinning. Infestations are a natural occurrence and the way to clean it out is to let wildfire do its job. The USFS has done an exceptionally poor job in managing the forest. Take the local politicians and rednecks out of the equation and let it burn. Stop wasting money on fire crews and fire prevention.

The fires will go out when rains or snows. It will be fine. There is no emergency.