I have been driving for 40 years. I can't imagine driving without side view & rear view mirrors. I have been using a backup camera for almost 10 years & it can't replace my rear view mirror. It gets dirty from road grime, it gets covered by ice & snow, & when it rains, the water changes how the surround looks. I can't imagine stopping in the winter to wipe off the cameras so I can see the traffic beside & behind me properly, let alone a torrential rain storm. As you can see, I'm not a proponent of replacing mirrors for cameras. Cameras as an additional aide or assistant, OK, but not as a replacement.
