

Frank Jenne - Comments

I would encourage your agency to focus its budget on speed reduction, roundabouts, and speed control tech, in that order. The highest safe speed in cities is approx 20 mph as per the original Vision Zero research out of Sweden and Europe. We should focus on lowering default speeds in cities to 20 mph for starters.