

Comment from Thomas Jones

To the NHTSA,

As a concerned citizen for the safety of American drivers, I believe the steps outlined in this study are considerably overdue. Nevertheless, I am happy to see something is being done to utilize the readily available safety features on heavy trucks. I look forward to more progress in the near future, and have nothing but the most profound trust that my tax dollars will be stewarded well during this project.

Best,

Thomas Jones