

Comment from Anonymous

This proposed rule is one I think is very important for the future safety of people across the country. As autonomous transportation becomes more and more of a reality for Americans, the question of safety must be discussed. Because of that, I think these set of regulations will help to ensure the safety of occupants of autonomous vehicles in the future.