

Comment from Jeff Peters

It is time to delete the requirement for side rear view mirrors on vehicles. The use of rear-facing cameras will be far more efficient in terms of aerodynamics. Cost reduction for replacing a camera versus a broken mirror will be large. The looks and styling will increase and the technology is advancing far beyond what a simple mirror can achieve.

Please remove the requirement for rear-facing side mirrors on vehicles.

NHTSA-2018-0021-0005