

Comment from Zach Brady

I encourage the NHTSA to consider the option to use CMSs to replace side view mirrors. My experience with modern digital camera technology in vehicles leads me to believe that side cameras would provide a far superior view in all lighting conditions to the fixed, non-dimming traditional side mirrors provide. Removing the side mirrors would improve safety, improve economy, and wouldn't adversely affect visibility at all. Please allow auto makers the option of replacing side mirrors with CMSs.