

Comment from Anonymous

Requiring better fuel efficiency is a great idea. Green house gases from burning fuel are a huge factor in global warming. Reducing the fuel burned during commuting would naturally help that. Also more efficient with fuel slows the United States' energy consumption and waste.