

Comment from Lyndsay Richardson

Vehicles and vehicle safety tests are designed by men, for men. Female crash test dummies are simply scaled-down versions of male dummies. This bias in design disproportionately affects women's lives. it's time to break the bias in vehicle safety.