The three E's of highway safety are very important. However when the three E's (Engineering, Education, Enforcement) fail, the accident victims and injured people. EMS and the trauma systems are the safety net for these individuals. EMS and State/Local Trauma Systems need to be mandatorily included to receive funds for support and improvement of the systems. Support is a big need nationally for both EMS and trauma systems. In many states, EMS is left out of these funds by the state's highway safety people.
